one for launching out into what may be termed mere luxuries. And such the filling in of the pend in Bowen Fark must be considered. As to the cost of the proposed work, the Surveyor-General has hitherto shown himself economical and we are not in a position to impugn his estimate on this occasion, though to a non-professional man $14,000 seems a very heavy sum to pay for such a job. If the work has to be done, then; the Colony must be prepared to pay 314,000 for it. 'It is true the pond is not a thing of beauty, but on the other hand it is quite harmless. The chief reason for the filling in of the swamp, originally was consideration for the public health, and, secondly, to provide a place of recreation. No question of health arises in the present case, and it can hardly be contended that the space is urgently required for recreation, especially as the Athletic Club is about to lay out another extensive piece of ground in the immediate neighbourhood. But for the of his committing the rash act. objection to the erection of a pavilion the interior of the Racecourse would have been considered large enough to accommodate even the new Club. It must be admitted that the pond is rather inconvenient to the golf players. A prominent official, we hear, sent his ball into the middle of it the other day. $14,000, however, is a somewhat large sum for the Colony to pay for the remedying

of a little inconvenience of that kind.

In connection with the Park there is one usefully be directed. At the meeting of the London House, and bought direct from the most Finance Committee the Hon. N. G. Mir-CHELL-INNES asked a question "on behalf of the Wong-nei-chong Recreation Committee." In ordering it is only necessary to state How is this body constituted and what are its powers supposed to be? If, as we un-Orders through Local Post or by Telegram derstand, the Committee was formed on the suggestion of the Government, it is desirable that its formation and its powers should be duly notified in the Government Gazette. It is in no carping spirit that we make these remarks. So far the public hashad no reason to complain of the use to which the Park has been put, but common experience teaches that it is not a safe policy to allow public ground to pass under the control of private individuals or semi-private Clubs. If the control of Bowen Park, be vested now in a body such as the Wong-nei-chong Recreation Committee, without any official notification of the powers and status of that body, we will in the course of years find the Committee claiming to exercise powers over it as great and exclusive as those exercised by the Cricket Club over the Cricket Ground, and the public will be elbowed out by a few semi-private and select Clubs. We do not impute to the Committee purposes and for similar cnes, mixed with augur any desire to bring such a state of things about; we are willing, indeed, to believe that they would at present condemn it as strongly as any other members of the community; but it is inevitable, when once any! thing in the nature of private right is created, that it should gradually grow more assertive. Some arrangement for the future management of the Park is of course neceseary, but it ought to be arrived at openly and on the basis of the ground being for the ing to our Paris correspondent, Dr. Chambe benefit of the public and not of any particu-

The Russian Press periodically insert alarmist rumours and articles on the dangers which they averthreaten the Russian Empire in the Far East. Doubtless most of the writers are well aware, that they are either creating imaginary dangers or magnifying possibilities. Of course it is conceivable that, if a great military chief should ever arise in China, Russia might have cause for alarm, as an effort would then doubtless be made to Heering's Cherry Cordial recover the portion of Manchuria filehed by Dr. Siegert's Angostura the latter in 1860; but the Chinese are not a military people, and the chance of a new TAMERLANE arising in Eastern Asia seems about as remote a contingency as could be suggested. All that Russia really fears, we imagine, is that when the time seems ripe for Corea, or Mongolia, or Turkestan to fall into her ready maw, some interfering neutral may be there to protest against spoliation, and baulk the pacific aggrandisement of the Czan. As we have pointed out in previous articles, it is not at all probable that England Queen's House, closing his despatches, angered specially and particularly within the knowledge will enter into an alliance with China against Russia, but it is, at the same time, very likely that England, Germany, and other Treaty Powers might protest against further encroachments by Russia on China. During a visit, in the summer of 1888, to San rancisco, I made the acquainfonce of Sing For. Chinaman who combines the two becarations of priest and merchant. Finding him to be a very entertaining and intelligent spentleman. cultivated him until we became good friends. He told me many strange things about Chinese manners and customs, but the strangest of all was an exhibition he gave me of mind-reading. He required some ten days for preparation At the appointed time I called for him at his stors, and, going with ma to the Joes House; we each of as removed our shoes, and put on in place of them a pair of white sating sandals. He enveloped himself in a white sutin robe which

This the priest took out and hold over the flame of the lamp. As it became dry there appeared upon it a faint outline picture of the Joss House. It was blurred and indistinct, but it was beyond question a picture of the room I had in my mind while sitting blindfold on the floor.

The trick was a simple one, and I saw through afronce. I told Sing Pou that, of course, he knew I would have in my mind the room through which we had just passed, and he had his picture prepared beforehand. He smiled in a goodnatured way, and, taking a powerful readingglass from a drawer in the table, he bade me examine the picture more closely. I found it to be a picture, and a perfect one, of the Jose House, not us it really is, but as I had thought of it, and pictured it to myself from memory-for, on second thought. I could see
